FRED TAYLOR CONGRATULATES 4TH GRADER ON WENDY'S ARTWORK

JACKSONVILLE, FL - On Jan. 10, 2006, Jacksonville Jaguars running back Fred Taylor visited Mayport Elementary School to congratulate fourth-grader Rachel Hernandez for winning the Wendy's 3-A-Day of Dairy Tray Liner contest.

Taylor, along with help from Jaxson de Ville and the ROAR, addressed an assembly of Mayport students, then sat down for lunch, provided by Wendy's, with Rachel and her classmates.

Duval County elementary students participated in the tray liner design contest sponsored by the Dairy Council of Florida, Jaguars and Wendy's. Students were asked to emphasize the importance of dairy and nutrition while maintaining a strong theme to the hometown Jaguars. Rachel's tray liner will be featured in Jacksonville area Wendy's restaurants for the month of January; her winning design can be found at <http://www.jaguars.com/fanzone/trayliner.asp>

Wendy's recently added milk as a healthy option to its children's meals nationwide and also is the first quick-service restaurant to carry the dairy industry's 3-A-Day of Dairy logo on its milk packaging.
