Lake Mary, Cypress Bay Prep Golfers
Named Florida Dairy Farmers 2009 Golfers-of-the-Year

GAINESVILLE (Dec. 18) – Han Kim of Lake Mary High School and Juliana Herrera of Weston Cypress Bay were named the 2009 Florida Dairy Farmers Golfers-of-the-Year following a final round of balloting by a statewide panel of high school golf coaches.

Kim, who was earlier named Class 2A Boys' Golfer-of-the-Year after winning the 2A state title with a two-day score of 135, finished ahead of Class 1A Player-of-the-Year Jesse Perkins, (Ft. Lauderdale Archbishop McCarthy) for the award honoring the top boys' golfer in the state.

Herrera was named the Class 2A Girls' Golfer-of-the-year after winning the 2A state title with a two-day score of 139. She finished ahead of Class 1A Player-of-the-Year Kylie Roig (Plantation American Heritage) for the state's top girls' honor.

The Florida Dairy Farmers Sports Awards program exemplifies Dairy Farmers, Inc.'s commitment to the state's youth. While honoring the state's top athletes and coaches in all 26 FHSSA-sanctioned sports for the 18th consecutive year, the program also emphasizes to young people the importance of keeping dairy products a primary part of their diet in their overall nutrition plan.
