LOCAL DAIRY FARMER TEACHES KIDS ABOUT LIFE ON THE FARM Riley O'Steen and Daughter to Read at Library's Summer Reading Program

WHO: Florida Dairy Farmers and the Three Rivers Regional Library are teaming up to encourage children to read more books and drink more milk. Local dairy farmer Riley O'Steen and his daughter Lindsay will read a book, serve free chocolate milk and bring a baby calf for kids to pet.

WHAT: The featured book is Allison Investigates: Does Chocolate Milk Come from Brown Cows? by Colette Omans Nicoletta. It teaches about the nutritional value of milk, as well as how it gets from the farm to the fridge. After the reading, O'Steen will answer any questions about his personal story as a dairy farmer. The library will also show an animated video about life on a Florida dairy farm (SunnyBell & the Florida Dairy "Moo"sical).

WHEN: Tuesday, July 19, 2011
10-11 a.m.

WHERE: Three Rivers Regional Library
262 W. Main St.
Mayo, FL 32066

About Florida Dairy Farmers

Florida Dairy Farmers is a farmer-funded organization that works to educate people about the state's dairy farming industry and promote nutrient-rich dairy foods as an important part of a healthy lifestyle. FDF is one of 19 member organizations of the United Dairy Industry Association and carries out the programs of Dairy Management Inc., the umbrella organization based in Chicago.
